Dear Dr. Henney:

I urge the Food and Drug Administration to ban human antibiotics in animal feeds. It is hoped that this letter can be joined by others, written to support a common-sense acknowledgement of what is broadly happening in nutrition and medicine relative to the use of antibiotics.

I speak of the overuse of antibiotics and the resultant resistance of disease organisms to these antibiotics.

The financial gain of the pharmaceutical industry and agricultural interests are NOT more important than the health of the citizenry.

Very truly yours,
